

Mandatory 24/7 recording and retention of all programming would pose serious hardships on local broadcasters.
Below is a list of my concerns:

The cost of recording and storing thousands of hours of broadcast programming would be overly burdensome.

The cost of staff to record, monitor and store these recordings would be overly burdensome.

The cost of recording programming on each multicast channel simply multiplies the points previously made.

Under this proposal, the burden of supplying evidence of potential violations could be placed on the station and not the complainant.

The incidence of indecency violations by broadcasters have been minimal and does not warrant this broad stroke proposal which would cause hardship on all broadcasters.
